Date: March 25th, 2020

Subject: TRANSTEX Operations in Indianapolis will continue as per usual

To Whom It May Concern:

The entire TRANSTEX family would like to thank everyone in the transportation industry for going the extra mile during this unprecedented COVID-19 (Coronavirus 2019) pandemic. This includes trucking companies, truck drivers, freight support staff, warehouse staff, and the people behind the scenes that continue to deliver critical supplies as we navigate through these challenging times.

It is important to note that the Department of Homeland Security has designated the manufacturing, repair, and maintenance of transportation equipment to be a part of the nation's Critical Manufacturing Sector. Business will continue as per usual at our TRANSTEX facility in Indianapolis, IN.

Indiana Governor Eric Holcomb's announcement of the stay-at-home order will have no effect on TRANSTEX as we have been deemed a Critical Business. More details on the Critical Manufacturing Sector can be found online:

- <https://www.cisa.gov/transportation-systems-sector>

Rest assured that we are taking extra precautions at our facility in Indianapolis to ensure that all products and machinery are sanitized and employees are keeping at least 6 feet of separation. We have existing inventory to ensure that all orders are shipped 100% complete, and there is no interruption to commercial trailers delivering food, medicine, and other critical supplies to North America.

Please feel free to contact your Director of Sales if there is anything our TRANSTEX family can do to support you.

Sincerely,
